

INTERRUPT HUNGER

Overcome Your Cravings with Compassion

Bill Jollie or “Jollie” was diagnosed with a type of blood cancer called Small Lymphocytic Lymphoma in 2011. Jollie’s oncologist told him and his wife Tracy he had 10 years to live (daughters Kelsey and Katie were 10 and 14 at the time). He decided to change his life and fight his death sentence. He learned everything he could to grow stronger, faster, healthier and happier. Interrupt Hunger is the result of Jollie’s personal transformation. Since his diagnosis, he has competed in multiple races including the Marine Corps Marathon and North Carolina 70.3 Ironman. He was appointed by North Carolina’s Governor to the NC Advisory Committee for Cancer Coordination and Control and served as the Prevention Subcommittee Chair for North Carolina’s state Cancer Plan. He passionately advocates for Exercise Oncology and hopes one day soon, every person who hears the words, “You have cancer”, will receive a referral to an exercise specialist.

Learning from Tracy that it’s not enough to be intentional about the way we MOVE and EAT, but how we GIVE as well, the Jollie’s began fostering in 2017. God brought Ensley, their first foster child, into their lives at just 5 days old. Two years later, the Jollie’s adopted Ensley, making her a permanent member of the family. The Jollie’s continue to foster, and spread the joy of fostering and adoption to anyone willing to listen!

EAT

Use the Interrupt Hunger Wristband to change the way you eat: Be mindful of what your body is telling you. Learn to tell the difference between true hunger and unhealthy cravings, as well as when you’ve had enough to eat during meals.

Cravings: When unhealthy cravings strike, take the wristband off & put it on your other wrist. Drink a large glass of water & wait 5 minutes to see if the craving subsides. If the craving remains, have a healthy snack instead.

Portion Control: At meals, don’t eat until you’re full; eat until you’re no longer hungry—there’s a big difference! When you first realize you’re no longer hungry, take the wristband off, put it on the other wrist and stop eating.

Half the battle of eating healthy is having healthy items on-hand when cravings strike! Begin to make a list of your favorite foods for meals and snacks, and make sure to keep your home & office stocked with these items.
